"I went to the county fair. All the birds and the beasts were there."

You know the rest of the nursery rhyme, and anyhow, it was a grand evening. Our demon observer tells us of a lot of things that happened.

He insists that the punch was brought to the party in a gasoline tank, and that the checking booth allowed space for only 80 customers, thereby allowing late comers to choose their wraps as they left.

He complains bitterly that he spent $4.65 and only won a tobacco humidor. He saved money by buying Eskimo pies for a nickel where more gullible customers paid a dime. According to him, the only way to get one's money's worth was to dance.

Dancing reminds us that it was hard to find a pledge among the active toward the latter part of the Pledge Prom. Officially, only one active from each chapter was to attempt, but you know how it is. Some of the brothers had a conscience, however, and it hurt them enough to cause them to wear a pledge pin as well as their regular badge.

Profanity is forbidden in this column. We shall not discuss the late lamented occurrence with Juniata Saturday.

Students are hereby urged to reserve November 25 as a day for Thanksgiving. Our frosh play those from C. U., so there will be at least one football game in Griffith or C. U. Stadium, as the case may be.

O Sugar! Another of these infernal college pictures. What we want to know is whether the dashing substitute scores a touchdown in the last 15 seconds of play before or after he wins the girl. We've seen four pictures and the first way and three the latter way. We personally hope the score is tied.

A telegram has just been received telling us that Bryant Davis won the September Cup for his valiant efforts in the pie-eating contest.

The sophomore archers had better curl up and die. If the juniors can trounce out 262 points to a mere 110. That's entirely too many arrows to be in one person, we opine.

That nice parking place that used to be between the fire plug and the corner of Twenty-first and G is no more. That little pink and red sign which says "No parking here to corner" does the job.

Some wag has written on the wall of the house beside the alley near Corcoran Hall these derisive words, "Call a policeman, somebody's parking in this alley."

First we get gravel walks and now terraces on the back campus. Soon it will be in such shape that pictures of it instead of government buildings can be used in The Cherry Tree.

Seems as if the printer's is as popular a place on Sunday nights as Quigley's is at other times. Even parking space is hard to find as the editorial staff of The Hatchet gathers for an evening of, well, what shall we call it, work?

This place will be overrun with editors and business managers over the coming week-end, when delegates from twenty odd colleges and universities get together to discuss how and why G. W. should put on its best bib and tucker, so when reports go back to the old home town, they will be good.

Maybe those in charge of the convention were wise in picking a Saturday when there was no football game.

Bern Henninger has sworn off women again.

Watch your step girls! ***

WILBUR LAUNCHES PLAN TO STIMULATE CHAPELS

Provost Wilbur has devised a plan by which he hopes to build up chapel attendance and interest and has formed a committee of men and women of the University interested in the chapel. This nucleus will compose a Chapel Committee and their duties will be to attend chapel when possible and to speak to others in arousing interest and gaining new members.

It is hoped that the co-operation of such a nucleus will help chapel to grow in interest and attendance. When large enough numbers attend, prominent clergy of Washington will be invited to address chapel. Chapels are held every Friday morning from 12:10-12:30 in Corcoran Hall 1, and every one is invited to attend.

NEWSPAPERMEN OF SCHOOL GROUP TO MEET FRIDAY

Angel as President, and Jenkins As Secretary Represent The Hatchet

PROMINENT JOURNALISTS TO ADDRESS ASSOCIATION

Interesting Program of Events Planned As Entertainment By Group

Official delegates from twenty-seven colleges and university publications will assemble at The George Washington University next Friday and Saturday for the regular semi-annual meeting of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States. The Chairman of the Board of Editors of The Hatchet, Herbert E. Angel, is president of the association and the secretary-treasurer of the organization is Harold L. Jenkins, business manager of The Hatchet.

The program of the association will begin Friday afternoon at three with a business session in Corcoran Hall and on Friday evening features of entertainment will be provided. A business session will also be held Saturday morning, followed by a luncheon at which time the delegates will be the guests of the University. A sightseeing tour will occupy the place of principal importance on the Saturday afternoon schedule.

Several outstanding journalists will address the association at their Saturday evening banquet for which special arrangements are being made. Gleason A. Lyon, associate editor of the Washington Evening Star, Henry Grattan Doyle, Dean of the Lower Division at Columbian College and Chairman of the Committee on Student Publications, James M. Lee, director of the School of Journalism at New York University and executive secretary and founder of the association, as well as other speakers will appear on the program for the occasion.

Mr. Lyon has recently returned from a trip to the Orient, where for several months as a member of a party of American newspaper men and writers he studied social and political conditions in the Far East. It is expected that he will discuss his experiences and impressions of China, Japan, and other Eastern countries.

Meetings in Corcoran Hall

The business sessions will be largely given over to reports by representatives of member papers and to the transaction of the routine matters. The meetings will be held in Corcoran Hall and the official delegates will be the editors and managing editors of the member papers. Preparations for many features of entertainment in addition to the ones already mentioned will be in process of completion during the present week. The delegates from the various newspapers will be guests during their visit to Washington at the several fraternity and sorority houses.

The section of the United States included in the association extends from New York City to Washington and from the seaboard west to the western borders of Pennsylvania. It was at a meeting at Allentown, Pennsylvania, last May that the editor of the local paper, Angel, was elected president.

The Hatchet has been a member of the association for the past eight or nine years and this is the first time that it has been the privilege of George Washington University to be host and to be the place of meeting since the fall meeting is regularly held at the school of the group's president.

During the course of the gathering of newspaper heads a contest will be held to award cups to the paper having the best editorials and to the one having the best all-round appearance. The awards last meeting went to the New York University Daily News for editorial quality and to the Haverford News for general make-up.

GEOLOGISTS TO MEET

A meeting of Sigma Gamma Epsilon Geological Fraternity will be held in Room 34 J, on Thursday evening, November 21, at 7:30.

Mr. E. P. Henderson, mineralogist for the University and the Geological Survey, has returned from a four month's tour through Africa, where he visited the Kimberly diamond mines, and will lecture on his experiences.

CHERRY TREE PICTURES

Pictures for the 1930 Cherry Tree are being taken in the school studio on the third floor of 712 Twenty-first Street N. W., on the following dates:

November 25, 8 p. m. to 10 p. m.
November 26, 2 p. m. to 4 p. m.
November 27, 10 a. m. to 12 noon.
8 p. m. to 10 p. m.
November 29, 2 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Mrs. Barrows Will List Organizations

Chaperonage of University Events To Be Controlled By Secretary of Activities

All chaperonage has been transferred to the control of Mrs. Barrows, secretary for Women's Activities, by vote of the Committee on Student Life. Requests by all organizations for chaperones are to be handled by Mrs. Barrows.

Social organizations will henceforth be required to submit the following information to the Secretary of Women's Activities: Instead of to the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women, as was the case last year. The name and address and telephone number of the president, and a brief statement of the nature and purposes of the organization; new organizations, a list of the charter members and a copy of the constitution and by-laws.

A chaperon, according to the rules, is a responsible person, approved by the committee to act in this capacity, whose duties are to be present at the opening of the function they are chaperoning, to remain until all guests have left, and to report to the Secretary of Women any violation of regulations or of good order in general.

G. W. COUNTY FAIR IS HUGE SUCCESS

Kappa Kappa Gamma Booth Selected Most Popular At Annual Fair

PROFS ACT AS JUDGES

Bryant Davis Eats Pie Fastest, Thus Winning Cup; Fair Receipts Run High

Kappa Kappa Gamma's booth was chosen by general vote as the most popular one at the County Fair Saturday night at Corcoran Hall. It led the poll with a vote of eighty-eight. Pi Beta Phi's booth tied with Zeta Tau Alpha for second place with a count of sixty votes each.

A committee of members of the faculty, composed of Professor Baker, Professor Delbert and Professor Ragatz, was selected to choose the most attractive booth at the fair. Pi Phi's booth was chosen by them as being the most distinguished and original.

Dancing proved to be the most popular amusement at the fair. The music provided by the colored orchestra was above the ordinary. During the intermission the crowd was entertained by song hits from last year's Troubadour show, sung by Mildred Burnham.

Jerry Slicker did his usual part toward entertaining the people by singing "his" song, "Piccolo Pete," and by mystifying them with his magic and sleight-of-hand tricks.

The high spot of the evening was the pie-eating contest for the young men. Bryant Davis, a Sigma Chi pledge, gulped down his last mouthful first, thus winning the contest and gaining possession of a fine three-inch silver loving cup.

Fun For All Provided

At the fair, food, fun, and amusement were provided for all. The crowd spent the time between dancing in wandering about from booth to booth sampling the wares displayed on all. Candy, Eskimo pies, punch, and cider attracted many hungry revelers. Games of chance attracted others. All the booths did rushing business.

The student body as well as the faculty, was well represented. Miss Cooper and Mrs. Barrows chaperoned the affair, but many other professors came in as onlookers. It is estimated that more than six hundred students from George Washington attended the fair.

Proceeds Are Big

The proceeds from the fair go to the Y-W-C-A. Approximately $220 profit was made during the evening. The admission receipts totaled $60. The dancing brought in $35, and the votes sold for about $30. The booths made from $2 to $20 each.

EMBRYO JOURNALISTS HEAR LINCOLN SPEAK

Professor Chace's embryo journalists will have as their next speaker, G. Gould Lincoln, prominent political writer, who is slated to speak some time before the formal opening of the next session of Congress the first part of next month. Mr. Lincoln, whose column appears daily on the editorial page of The Evening Star, will be swamped with work after that time, as he devotes full time to covering the operations of that legislative body when in session.

The subject of the talk has not been definitely announced as yet, but, according to Dr. Chace, will be on the general phases of Mr. Lincoln's work, and any humorous features in connection therewith, which he may care to disclose.

FROSH ORATIONS TO BE ACCEPTED TILL THIS FRIDAY

Typewritten Copy Must Be Presented at the Office of The Registrar

FINAL CONTEST TO BE HELD ON DECEMBER 6

Three Orations To Be Selected; Winner Will Be Presented Silver-Loving Cup

Friday, November 22, has been named as the last date on which freshmen, entering the annual Phi Delta Gamma oratorical contest, may submit their oration manuscripts.

This date, while close at hand, still permits any first-year student contemplating entering the contest to file his oration with the Registrar. Each oration must be no more than 10 minutes in length, and a copy in typewriting must be presented to the Registrar on or before November 22 in order for the contestant to be eligible to appear in the oral contest which will be held on December 6.

At the final oral contest on December 6, in Corcoran Hall, three orations will be selected and from these three a winner will be chosen and to him will be presented a silver loving cup. The two remaining members of the three best contestants chosen by the judges will receive without differentiation handsome gold neckties. These awards are given to the winners and are retained by them as permanent awards.

According to the latest report from those in charge of this year's contest, the number and scope of the orations which have thus far been submitted, or are now in the process of preparation, is greater and more varied than those of last year, when varied and interesting topics were chosen for the final contest.

It will be remembered that among the gems of last year's contest were such topics of wide interest as: "A Challenge to American Democracy," "Peace, How Can It Be Obtained?" "Fidelity of the Press," "The Value of a College Education," "Tolerance," and many others, fully as vital and interesting.

Anna Taylor last year won the first award when she held a large audience spellbound with her splendid talk entitled, "Soldiers of the Sea." His eloquence was matched only by that of Joseph Tachibana and Juan Quijano, winners of the gold medals.

It is expected and hoped that this year will see even greater effort, and will bring to the fore an unusual amount of freshman talent. This is the most important freshman event on the University calendar and because of its importance, no effort is being spared to assure its complete success.

As last year, the contest will be open to the public as well as to the student body, and it is anticipated by the executive committee in charge of arrangements that the largest audience ever to attend a forensic event at The George Washington University will be on hand. No admission will be charged.

DEBATING FRATERNITY HONORS MRS. DEPEW

Speakers Review History of Forensics at G. W. and Pay Honor To Chauncey Depew

Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary debating fraternity, met at a banquet at the Cosmos Club, Friday, November 15, in honor of Mrs. Chauncey Depew, donor of the Chauncey Depew chair of public speaking at the University.

Harryman Dorsey, toastmaster, made the opening address and introduced Gilbert L. Hall, former coach of debating at G. W. and now a member of the Law School faculty. Mr. Hall traced the development of debating interest at G. W. from its meager beginnings to the recent establishment of a chair of public speaking in honor of Mr. Depew.

Dr. Cloud Heck Marvin, President of the University, discussed the events leading up to, and the circumstances surrounding, the gift and said that G. W. in its present status as a university non-sectional in its interests, was in a way to receive a number of similar gifts which would make it one of truly national character.

Miss Margaret Bell, former student of the Law School and now of the faculty of public speaking of the University of Maryland gave a number of readings.

Harryman Dorsey gave a brief sketch of the remarkable career of Chauncey Depew.

Dr. W. Hayes Yeager, who recently came to the University to fill the new Chauncey Depew chair, spoke of the historical development of oratory.

Leslie M. Shaw, former assistant secretary of the Treasury, and Mrs. Chauncey Depew sent telegrams expressing their sorrow at not being able to attend the banquet.

The banquet was well-attended by Delta Sigma Rho members, both active and alumni, and students interested in the debating activities.

William Snow Named Head of Gate and Key

Futterer, Fleck, and Gray Also Elected Officers of Honorary Society

William Snow, of Sigma Chi, was elected president of the Gate and Key Honorary Society at its last meeting held at the Phi Sigma Kappa house. Charles Futterer as vice president, James Fleck as secretary, and Robert Gray as treasurer were the other officers elected.

Plans for the social season were discussed resulting in the announcement that there will be a closed dance on Thanksgiving night at one of the nearby clubs. William B. Licklider was appointed chairman of the social committee in charge of arrangements. Jasper Highsmith from Kappa Alpha was formally initiated after the regular business meeting. Announcement of newly elected members will be given out in the near future.

LABORITE SPEAKS BEFORE LIBERALS

Edward L. McGrady, of A. F. L., Describes Labor Condition in South

P. LINEBARGER PRESIDES

Lawrence Todd, of Federated Press, Presents Differing Points in Socialist Program

A program dealing with the "Southern Labor Crisis" was presented by the George Washington University Liberal Club last Wednesday evening in Corcoran Hall. Consistent with its policy of giving both sides of a controversial question, the club had as speakers Edward L. McGrady, chief of the legislative board of the American Federation of Labor, and Lawrence Todd of the (Socialist) Federated Press.

Rudolph Shohah of the (Communist) International Labor Defense was also scheduled to speak but was unable to come. A record attendance of about 150 students heard the program, and there was a considerable attendance from Georgetown University.

Paul Linebarger, president of the Liberal Club, opened the meeting with a definition of the purpose of the Liberal Club. Colleges today pay too little attention to assisting the student in facing the common questions of the moment, and hence the college graduate is frequently no less prejudiced than people who have had less opportunity for mature thought. We have liberal education, but no education in liberalism. This last we are endeavoring to obtain.

Mr. McGrady began his speech with a detailed and vivid description of the conditions in the South, especially in the chambers of commerce, according to Mr. McGrady, the bases of anti-unionism in the South. With no real comprehension of economics and only the stubbornness of ignorance, the business men of the South are opposing any move for the betterment of conditions among the slaves in industry.

It is the chambers of commerce, declared Mr. McGrady, that caused the German Bemberg Glanzstoff Corporation to refuse acceptance of trade unions after labor troubles in their factories.

McGrady Relates Kidnap

Mr. McGrady has had many year's experience as a labor organizer and yet he considered his efforts in the South recently as being extremely lawless even in comparison with the usually upset conditions prevalent in striking regions. Mr. McGrady was kidnapped and taken out of Elizabethton, and threatened with any number of punishments if he returned. But he came back with an armed guard, and lived in a solitary house, protected day and night by high-powered rifles.

Mr. McGrady is, as is fairly obvious from his name, Scotch-Irish, and is very vigorous, emphasizing each point greatly. He impressed the audience greatly, and his speech provoked an endless number of criticisms from the floor in the forum that followed.

Mr. Todd also spoke, and presented a summary of the differing points in the Socialist program. The forum was presided over by Robert Shostek, secretary of the club.

The next meeting of the Liberal Club is a special business and reorganization meeting. It is to be held at the residence of the president, 2006 R Street N. W., on the evening of Thursday the 21st, at 8:30 p. m. Students not attending will be regarded as never having considered themselves members, and their names will be transferred from the membership roll to the mailing list.

INGRAM TO SPEAK

Commander William Ingram, the head coach of the United States Naval Academy, will be the principal speaker at the annual football banquet to be held on December 10, at the Mayflower Hotel.

MARVIN SPEAKS TO MOTHERS OF FRESHMAN GIRLS

Mothers Spend Entire Day Inspecting University; Many Visit Various Classes

MRS. EVANS STRESSES GUIDANCE IN JUDGMENT

Women Members of Faculty and University Administration Assist in Entertaining Guests

"A university, no matter how great nor how powerful it may be, cannot craft a fifty-thousand dollar education onto a 'fifty cent' boy or girl." President Marvin told the mothers of 100 freshman women at the opening assembly of the annual Mothers' Day held last Thursday. Interest in the event and in the motives behind it has since been reflected by the local press.

Personal contact between the faculty and the parents and the students was sought and found in the course of the all-day program supervised by Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, Secretary for Women's Activities. Enthusiasm reigned from 9 o'clock registration through speeches, regular class attendance, luncheon, and a tour of points of interest on the campus.

Following the invocation by Provost Wilbur, the mothers were welcomed by Mrs. Barrows and Catherine Eckhart, a member of the class of 1933. Mrs. Henry L. Morris, mother of a freshman coed responded for the mothers.

Parents Held Responsible

"Boys and girls are representative of what their fathers and mothers are," Dr. Marvin declared in his brief address. "The time to raise a child is twenty years before it is born. The life stream is constant, and if your lives are true and faithful so will your sons and daughters' lives be true. We cannot train sons and daughters apart from mothers and fathers. You are a part of us, of the great scheme of education. The thing that is all important is that you carry in your hearts the true idea of the meaning of education."

Reviewing the several types of parents, who send their children to college, Dr. Marvin said: "There is the ambitious parent, the one who somewhat misses the point of education. This parent says: 'I want Johnnie to come to the University so that he won't have to work as hard as I have had to work in life.' To this parent my only answer is that the university is not the place for him. Unless a boy or girl can come here and learn to work harder, and to greater social purpose than he could learn elsewhere during the four years he would spend in college, he has no place here. College is the place where one prepares oneself for superior effort."

Colleges Used As Stop-Gaps

To the parent who would "save the university as a sort of stop-gap in life," as an intermediary protection of their children until complete manhood and womanhood, Dr. Marvin advised: "You do not want a college, you want a country club."

"But there is another kind of parent who gives me courage. This is the one who says, 'I want my son to be well prepared for life, that he may carry on honestly and sincerely.'"

That questions which arise concerning women students deal not with morals so much as with good taste and better judgment, was the opinion expressed by Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., only woman trustee of the University. "The University has a great responsibility for the social activities of its women members," stated Mrs. Evans. "It would be a great pity were we to train your daughters' minds and give them no guidance along the line of activities that will form a major part of their lives after they leave the university. We want this responsibility to be shared, through proper self-guidance, the girls carrying forward the ideals set by you and us."

After further remarks by Prof. Henry Grattan Doyle, Dean of the Lower Division of Columbian College, and Dr. Catherine Chapman, physician for women, the mothers accompanied their daughters to their remaining morning classes.

Luncheon Features

Served in Corcoran Hall, where the assembly was held earlier, a buffet luncheon comprised the next feature enjoyed by the mothers, daughters, and women members of the faculty whom they met at 9 o'clock. Hostesses included Mrs. Marvin, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Doyle, and Mrs. Barrows.

In the tour of buildings and points of interest succeeding the luncheon, the guests had glimpses of rifle practice, folk dancing by freshman girls in the gymnasium, demonstration by the Home Economics Department, and an exhibit of the Department of Fine Arts.

Marvin's Speech Praised

By discounting the two inferior reasons of parents for sending children to college, Dr. Marvin laid the cause of education according to edi-

WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1929

WELCOME, JOURNALISTS!

The George Washington University is happy to welcome the members of the Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States, who will meet here in an annual convention this week. The University, because of its ideal location, has always been a favorite place for conventions and meetings of all kinds, and it is with a full-hearted welcome that the administration and student body of The George Washington University greets the visitors within our halls. The meeting of the undergraduate journalists is the first of a series of large gatherings to be held at the University during the present year, and we join in extending to them and to the others who will follow the hospitality and freedom of our school.

COLLEGIATE INTELLIGENTIA

One of the most amusing phases of modern undergraduate life is the prevalence of the groups of so-called intellectuals. Every campus has its several cliques meeting periodically to solve the serious problems of life—always problems concerning others!

Each of these several groups is secure in the knowledge that they are the local leaders of thought. This belief arises from natural causes. There is always and necessarily, a great amount of back-slapping connected with the meeting of such kindred souls. Ego is stimulated and the stimulators are always regarded as brilliant fellows. Each member is very sure that his contribution to the discussion is quite worthwhile, and hence, for these reasons the group is intellectual.

The chief problem confronting the majority of these intellectual groups is the mental development of their fellow students. All agree that the remainder of the undergraduate body is possessed of a remarkably low I. Q. and should not be permitted to clutter up the halls of learning. Just what should be done with those who are not so fortunate in their choice of ancestors, they have not determined. To be sure solutions are offered every day, but somehow they are not practical in our present state.

They constantly condemn the antics of the modern collegian and bemoan the absence of the perfect state—a state modeled to fit their conceptions of higher learning. Destructive criticism is a good thing; a thing which brings advancement and keeps us from falling into a rut—when it comes from an understanding source.

Many of these groups keep to themselves to such an extent that they can not possibly know what is being done on the outside. They do not know whether or not intellectual advancement is at a standstill. Yet they feel capable of criticism.

It would be an excellent thing if those of the "intelligentia" could stand off and take a good look at the universe and actually think for a moment. They would see that the universe is really a tremendous thing; a huge system, and that they are after all just a minute part of a great scheme of things.

Lacking in other things, these groups develop nothing beyond collegiate snobbery. And what a pure, superficial thing that is!

PLEDGES, plus party, minus pad-dies, equals pledge prom. If you don't believe it, ask anyone who went up to the Acacia house last Friday. Those expecting the usual dignified prom were delightfully surprised. Informality and real fraternal spirit prevailed. All went to make up a peppy evening, the girls, unique lighting effect, music by Pete Macias' band, and, of course, the pledges who should be pardoned for much, after this. Speaking of proms, did anyone miss the K. A. dance, an impromptu interfraternity affair in itself?

Betty Clark, women's rifle coach at G. W., went to Chicago last week, and from there flew to San Francisco by plane. She planned to stay at the University of Southern California and in San Francisco, and will fly back the last of this week.

Chi Omega's house-warming affair last Sunday attracted many of G. W.'s social elite from both student body and faculty. The Chi O's graciously entertained in their attractive suite with delicious refreshments for all.

Acacia announces the formal pledging of Palmer Bazemore of Charleston, South Carolina.

The Psi Chapter of the Phi Delta Epsilon Medical Fraternity announces the pledging of Henry Albert, Henry Beecher, Abe Blajivas, Morris Chase, Harry Douglas, Herman Eisenberg, Irwin Feldman, Milton Greenberg, Charles Hellmann, Hyman Inslicht, Nathan Miller, W. S. Miller, Morris Silverman, Erwin Steiman, Robert Stolar, Samuel Toperman.

Phi Delta Epsilon will give a dance on November 24, at the Chapter House, 1316 Rhode Island Avenue, in honor of its new pledges.

Monta Ruediger gave a surprise party at her home, November 14, for Margaret Borjes.

Sigma Nu entertained Sunday at an informal tea.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained a number of girls who are members of fraternities not represented on the campus at a bridge party, November 14, at Carol Simpson's home.

Several Kappas attended the dance given by the Maryland University chapter Wednesday, November 13, at the chapter house.

The local chapter of Phi Delta has just received an announcement of the marriage of Katherine Ash to Phillip Kadal on September 4, 1928.

Sigma Mu Sigma announces the formal pledging of F. Kilby Miles, Hammond, L. E. Worsley, and Roger Smith.

At an informal dinner party on Sunday evening, November 10, Jane Wilson entertained Jean Westbrook, Betsy Garrett, Dan Beattie, Frank Westbrook, and George Wells.

The annual inspection of the George Washington Chapter of Chi Omega was held last week-end by the official inspector.

A large number of the regular followers of the "Boat Club" are expected to attend a dance to be given by the Old Dominion Boat Club in Alexandria on Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday, November 27. A six-piece band has been engaged to furnish four hours of the usual good music. Jack Howard and Bob Whitten are in charge of this event. While many will attend in formal attire, it is not absolutely required.

More than one hundred women students in the Graduate School attended the teas given by the Phi Delta Gamma Graduate Sorority on November 13 and 14. Other guests included Mrs. Marvin, Dean Henning, and Miss Henning, Mrs. Joshua Evans, Mrs. Barrows, Miss Elizabeth Cullen, Professor Tillman, Prof. Donaldson, Prof. Chase F. Smith, Prof. Phillips, Prof. Ragatz, Prof. Michaels, Miss Cooper, Mr. Mason, and Miss Ross, President of the National Council of the Sorority.

Miss Thom, President of Beta Chapter, was assisted in receiving by Camille DuBose, Agnes Farrell, Mrs. Elsie Hendricks and Ora Marshino, and Mrs. Mary Jane Cole presided at the tea table.

Phi Delta Delta legal sorority announces the initiation on November 7th, of Catherine Ehrmantraut and Helen Boyd. Both formerly attended Columbian College and are members, respectively, of local chapters of Alpha Delta and Kappa Delta. Miss Boyd is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and was in residence there during the past summer as a student in the law school.

Phi Delta Delta celebrated its 18th anniversary at a Founders' Day banquet, November 9th, at the Washington Hotel. Four Washington chapters were represented, Washington College of Law, George Washington, National Law School, and Washington Alumnae, as well as several out-of-town chapters. Miss Margaret McChesney, a practicing attorney of Boston, Massachusetts, was the guest of honor.

A rush breakfast was given by members of Phi Delta Delta at Olney Inn on Sunday, November 17th. Miss Phoebe Morrison, a recent grauate of George Washington Law School, now secretary to Honorable John Bassett Moore, and Miss Helen Robinson, the first woman student ever admitted to Columbia University Law School, came from New York to attend.

A hansom cab was the novel means of transportation used by George Vanderford, Alice Walford, Jerry Sickler and Carolyn Shreiner for their dinner-theater party at the Hays-Adam House and Poli's Saturday night, November 9th.

The S. A. E's "got back to nature" at a steak roast at Merton English's farm Sunday, November 10th.

Among the G. W. football fans who motored down to Annapolis for the freshman G. W.-Navy game Saturday, November 16, were Ray Moulden, Carolyn Shreiner, Jack Chumley, Marion Moulden, Gerald Free, Brad Swope, Jerry Sickler, Geraldine Free, Merton English, Don Sickler and Emily Pilkinton. Dinner at Carvel Hall and dancing at St. John's Interfraternity Ball followed the game.

Theta Upsilon Omega Fraternity announces the pledging of Harold Tittman, Archie Wagner, and James Francis.

Carol Shupson entertained the Kappas and the Wandering Greeks at a bridge party at her home last Thursday evening.

Alpha Delta Theta announces the initiation of Frances Hall on Monday evening, November 18.

Louise Wenchel attended the Georgetown-West Virginia game Saturday, November 16.

The Home Economics classes are serving afternoon tea on Thursday, November 21, in Building C, room 13, from 3:00 to 5:00. All students are cordially invited to come.

Martha Williams, now attending Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y., will return to Washington for the Thanksgiving holidays.

John Owens expects to attend the Penn-Cornell game next week-end.

Margaret and Sally Ferguson entertained Thursday with a luncheon, honoring Kitty Slaughter and her wedding attendants. Later in the afternoon they were hostesses at a tea and kitchen shower also in her honor.

Mrs. T. Foster Slaughter gave a dinner for the Slaughter-Boaz wedding party following the rehearsal Friday night.

torial comment of local newspapers. The idea that college will promote a leisurely existence in contradistinction to the hard-fought life of the parent is as mistaken and unworthy as is the "glorified kindergarten" notion of a university.

"Enrollment at George Washington, or at any other college," as one paper epitomizes the ideal end of university education, "automatically is enlistment in the service of society. . . . Higher education is not to give additional privileges but to impose additional responsibilities and the capability to bear them."

MED-ECHOES

The senior class of the Medical School will hold a ball at the Mayflower Hotel some time in the spring, according to H. R. Paganelli, chairman of the committee in charge of preparations. Other members of the committee are Ephraim Meade, Ezra Campbell, and Luciano Gentile. This is the first time a Medical School senior class has arranged to have its own dance, and the event is being anticipated with unusual eagerness.

The Medical Historical Society, through its president, James O. Allison, announces that at its next meeting to be held soon, Dr. Hiram F. Thistlewaite of Western Reserve, will lecture on "New Methods of Aortectomy compared with Antiquated Instrumentation of the Intima of Blood Vessels." This society has done much to further medical research at the school and this talk is the first of a series to be given during the winter under its auspices.

Defeating the Non-Papeis 1435 to 1404, the Pill Rollers met their first opponent at the Convention Hall at 10:30 last Friday night. After anesthetizing the opposition, the senior team from the Medical School cut down the invaders for their first win of the season. Herman Rothman, substituting for A. J. Soear, took high score with 128.

In a census of the senior class taken to ascertain what the members expect to specialize in, it was found that about 3 per cent will enter general practice upon graduation. The most favored specialty was gynecology, with pathology, fanning a close second.

The Freshmen Medical Class will hold its first dance of the season Saturday, November 23, in Corcoran Hall, from nine to one. Music will be furnished by the Lido Band, while members of the freshman class will provide entertainment. Professors and upper classmen of the Medical School are invited.

Dr. Jenkins, having heard of the four freshmen locked in the autopsy room some time ago, has commended the freshmen class on its interest in pathology.

PAUSE AND REFRESH YOURSELF

THERE ARE PAUSES AND PAUSES. AND BUTCH, THE DEMON TACKLE, WOULD READILY ADMIT THAT SOMETIMES IT'S A MATTER OF TOO MUCH PAUSE AND NOT ENOUGH REFRESHMENT.

The rest of us are more fortunate. We can take our pauses as we want them. And to refresh us, Coca-Cola is ready, ice-cold, around the corner from anywhere. The wholesome refreshment of this pure drink of natural flavors makes any little minute long enough for a big rest.

COLONIAL FROSH DOWN ADMIRALS IN GOOD GAME 19-0

Krimelmyer Scores 13 Points
And Plays Fine Game

CONSERVATIVE FOOTBALL MARKS FIFTH FROSH WIN

Seventy Yards Made On Twelve Plays During Heavy Drive
Of Third Quarter

In an extremely well played game at Annapolis last Saturday, the George Washington freshman football team defeated the Naval Academy "B" squad, 19-0. During this contest, a novel program was followed, when after the first half of the Colonial game the Naval Academy varsity took the field to play Wake Forest for two quarters. Then the first game was resumed for another quarter, followed by the second half of the varsity game. The fourth quarter of the freshman contest wound up the day's play.

There was no marked advantage for either side throughout the first quarter of the "B" squad game. Although most of the play was in G. W.'s territory, it was due to fumbles by Wells. Both teams were kicking on the third down, and little ground was gained. The session opened with the ball in George Washington's possession on their own 12-yard line, and closed after several exchanges of kicks had moved it to their 30-yard line.

During the first part of the second quarter, little was changed. The teams continued conservative football, kicking frequently and passing only occasionally. One of the few passes by Navy was intercepted by a Colonial player, and the frosh seemed to wake up. By a varied style of play, which combined all types of football, the ball was carried to Navy's 35-yard marker, where a long pass by Wells placed the ball on the 1-yard line. On the next play Carlin plunged over for a touchdown. Carlin's kick for the extra point was wild. No ground was gained in the remaining three minutes of play. As the half ended Navy had the ball in the center of the field. The score, 6-0.

Carlin Gains Thirty Yards

When the third quarter started after the first part of the varsity game, the Colonial freshmen seemed to have gained strength. After Navy tried three plays they kicked to Wells on his own 30-yard line. On straight football the Buff and Blue carried the ball over for a touchdown in an even dozen plays, marked by a 28-yard pass. Carlin's kick was not counted when G. W. was offside. After the touchdown, Navy chose to receive, and on

BOXING SEMI-FINALS

The semi-final rounds for selection of the boxing team will be fought on Monday, December 2, at 8 p. m. Tickets may be secured at the Gym Office.

A 70-yard kick by Krimelmyer, Navy returned for 15 yards. After two plays, Navy punted to G. W.'s 40-yard line. After several short gains, Carter brought the stands to their feet when he ran thirty yards around right end. After a pass failed, one was successful for six yards. The score at the end of the half was 12-0, with the ball in the Colonial possession on Navy's 25-yard line.

On the third play of the last quarter, Krimelmyer hit the line for the third touchdown. His point after touchdown was good, bringing the score to 19-0. The remainder of the last quarter brought no further score, but the Buff and Blue continued to outplay the sailors. G. W. was in possession of the ball most of the time and made short gain after short gain, with an occasional ten-yarder put in. As the game finished, G. W. had just completed a long pass for a 20-yard gain. The final score was 19-0.

HUDSON MADE MANAGER OF INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Lum and Detwiler Are Named As Assistant Managers of Women's Sports

Mary Hudson has been chosen intramural manager for the Women's Athletic Association by Ruth Atwell, director of physical education on the recommendation of the executive board of the W. A. A. The assistant managers will be Mary Detwiler and Marian Lum.

The position of intramural manager includes the arranging of the schedules for the recreation sports such as bowling, and the interschool matches. The intramural schedule is planned to encourage those women who have not made any team to keep up an interest in athletics. It will give them an opportunity to play when they feel like it, while attendance is not compulsory.

Mary Hudson is a junior at George Washington. In 1928 she was a member of the varsity tennis squad and last year played on the junior class team.

Both Marian Lum and Mary Detwiler are sophomores. Marian is a member of the hockey and basketball squads and was an entrant in the tennis tournament.

Mary Detwiler won the individual tennis championship in 1928 and is a member of the varsity basketball squad.

Colonials Lose Hockey Game To Swarthmore

The Colonial hockey players went to defeat in the first game of the season, before the Swarthmore team, 17-0, on Saturday, November 16, on Swarthmore's field.

Several times the ball was carried within G. W.'s striking circle, but attempts to make a goal were frustrated by the strong opposition.

Turnbull, captain of the team, played her usual good game. Sproul, right inner for the Buff and Blue, helped give opposition to the Swarthmore line-up, and Irey managed to get the ball towards G. W.'s goal several times.

The next game will be played on Saturday, November 23, when the George Washington girls will face the Harrisonburg State Teachers' College, at Harrisonburg, Va.

Line-up: Folsom, c. f.; Sproul, r. i.; Chindblum, l. i.; McGregor, r. w.; Irey, l. w.; Turnbull, c. h.; Martin, r. b.; Kyle, l. h.; Bennenson, l. f.; Zimmerman, r. f.; Von Lewinski, g.

Substitutions: Lindsay for Turnbull; Aal for Lindsay; Reed for Chindblum; Hefebower for Martin; Corea for Von Lewinski.

COLONIALS LOSE GAME BY 32-0 TO JUNIATA COLLEGE

Fuzzy Andrews, Visiting Captain, Scores All Five Touchdowns of Game

SEVERAL NEW MEN SEE SERVICE FOR FIRST TIME

Adams and Berkowitz Do Bulk of Ball Carrying For Locals; McGrew Kicks Well

Led by Capt. Fuzzy Andrews, the Juniata College football team, dealt The George Washington University eleven a crushing defeat at the Central High School Stadium last Saturday by a score of 32-0.

The game revolved itself around the proposition of stopping Andrews, something which the Colonials could not do. This shifty back went through the line, skirted the ends and threw left-handed passes with equal skill. All he did was to register the five touchdowns chalked up to his team.

The Hatchettes presented a new line-up, when Bevo Miller and Shupert were started at the tackle posts. This allowed Babe Clapper to return to his old job at fullback, where he replaced Hoffman, who was forced to "idle" Saturday due to injuries. Several other new men saw service during the contest with Lehigh showing up well.

Dropkick Falls

The first touchdown came early in the initial period. Berkowitz took the opening kickoff and ran the ball back to the 30-yard line. After making only a few yards McGrew punted to Harley, who fumbled and Clapper recovered for the Buff and Blue. On the second play Adams' pass was intercepted by LaPorte, who raced to the G. W. 36-yard line before being downed. With Andrews and Petty doing the ball carrying, the visitors placed the pigskin on the one-yard line from where Andrews carried it over for the first score. An attempted pass for the extra point failed. The Hatchettes then started a march down the field to the Pennsylvanians' 10-yard marker, where they were penalized 15 yards for roughness. Clements then essayed a dropkick from the 35-yard line, but it was low. The period ended shortly after the ball was again put in play.

Shortly after the second period got under way, the blue-jerseyed Jads started another march towards the home team's goal. Captain Andrews and Harley did the bulk of the ball carrying and the former took it across from the 5-yard line. Mark added the extra tally with a dropkick. When the ball was put in play again, Juniata, mixing passes with end runs, chalked up another score. Andrews accounted for it by a 2-yard plunge through the center of the line. A pass, Andrews to Petty, featured the drive. Mark failed to add the extra point and the score was 19-0 as the half ended.

Adams Stars

The third quarter was all Juniata, but they did not score until late in the session. Petty aided his captain in the ground gaining in this offensive drive. A pass for the extra tally failed.

During the fourth quarter the Colonials made some headway. Adams intercepted a pass and got off to a pretty 30-yard run before being downed. Then with Berkowitz and Adams taking the pigskin the Hatchettes chalked up two first downs before having a pass intercepted by Rowles. Petty then made a beautiful 40-yard run and placed the ball in a position where Andrews could register his fifth touchdown. Rowles plunged over for the extra point. The G. W. gridmen were launching another attack as the game ended.

Berkowitz and Adams played very good offensive games and did practically all of the ground gaining done by the locals. McGrew's kicking was up to its accustomed high standard and aided materially in keeping the score as low as it was.

By virtue of wins over Kappa Sigma and Sigma Phi Epsilon, respectively, the Kappa Alpha and Phi Sigma Kappa quint tied for the league leadership of League A at the conclusion of the regular schedule last Friday night. Sigma Alpha Epsilon clinched on the same night the championship of League B, by trimming Sigma Chi.

The playoff in League A will take place tonight, and as both teams are well matched a great battle should take place. The only loss suffered by K. A. this season was at the hands of their tonight's opponents, but since that time they have been improving steadily. The Phi Sigs lost their opening game to Kappa Sig by the narrow margin of one point. The game is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock in the gymnasium. On Friday night the winner will tackle S. A. E. for the interleague championship at 8:30 o'clock in the gym.

K. A. Wins Handily
Fighting desperately, the Kappa Sigs threw a scare into the K. A.'s during the first half of their battle, but with Sturdevant and Wells finding the basket repeatedly in the final half, K. A. soon rolled up an insurmountable lead. The final score was 34-19.

In the other game played Wednesday night, Theta Upsilon Omega defeated Acacia 22-8 in a farcical game.

The Phi Sigs, displaying a pretty passing game, had little trouble with S. P. E., though they were hard pressed in the first half which ended 10-6 in favor of the ultimate winners. However, S. P. E. was blanked in the second half and the Phi Sigs scored 13 more points to run their total up to 23 to the Sig Eps' 6.

With the S. A. E.'s beating a steady tattoo on the basket, the Sig Chis were unable to do anything in a basketball way and were drubbed 26-4.

COLUMBIAN MEN TO MEET FILIPINO DEBATERS FRIDAY

Much-Heralded Debate to Take Place in Y. M. C. A. Hall At 8:30

MUSICAL NUMBERS ALSO INCLUDED IN PROGRAM

Free Importation of Philippine Goods to the United States Is Debate Subject

For the second time within three years the Columbian Debating Society will meet the Filipino Club of Washington in a debate to be held at 8:30 o'clock, Friday evening, November 22, in Y. M. C. A. Hall at Eighteenth and G Streets N. W. The subject of debate will be "Resolved, That the free importation of Philippine goods to the United States be stopped."

Karl Frisbie, Ralph Morgall, and James G. Wingo, of Columbian, will take the affirmative. The negative will be represented by Jose A. de Jesus, Juan R. Quijano, and Mauro Barad. Of these Wingo and Quijano are veterans in debates in which these two clubs have competed.

In addition to the debate there will be musical numbers. In view of the great interest manifested in previous debates between these two societies a large crowd is expected to attend. Five judges will be named to decide the contest.

Coelection Debated
Co-eds of George Washington University ran a verbal gauntlet ranging from bitter criticisms and dire accusations to flowery praises and chivalrous glorification last Friday evening, November 15, when Columbian debaters argued on the advisability of coeducation. The fair sex in institutions of higher learning bitterly assailed by some and heartily extolled by others, were vindicated in the end when a vote of the audience decided in favor of coeducation.

It was the largest audience of the year which heard Leo David and Sol Alper present arguments in favor of coeducation and Norman R. Hagen and David Rappoport against it.

Among those who spoke from the floor on both sides of the question were Gilbert Rabinowitz, Lewis Demblitz, Ralph Morgall, Gerson Eisenberg, James G. Wingo, Ralph Joyce, and Lionel C. Stukes.

Weekly Debate Set
The subject for debate at the next meeting of the society on December 13 will be that of immunity for food ships in war time. Lewis Demblitz will speak for the negative, while Gerson Eisenberg and Ralph Morgall will uphold the affirmative.

Fine Arts Division Displays Drawings
Work includes Pencil Sketchings, Antiques, Life Drawings and Water Colors

There is an excellent exhibit in the old Registrar's office of work done by the Division of Fine Arts. Among the kinds of work are pencil sketching, antique, life drawing, and water color.

In the junior-senior work, there is an office building, the work of J. H. Abel. This is an unusual piece of work, done in cream and brown. The work of the sophomore contains a private library, by H. E. King, and a fire-house, done by M. A. Rader. They are called class A projects, which is the rendering of a building with floor plan and cross-section of an elevation.

In the pencil sketchings group, the pen and ink renderings are cart wheels by Emogene Carter, on the river, by W. E. Sisson, trees, by E. A. Wetzel, and suburbs by E. A. Weihe. Also romanesque arches by M. Childrey; doorway, by E. Brown; the chimney by E. Carter; corner house by E. Zimmerman; the science building by P. P. Bell; and arlington bridge.

In the water colors are still life by M. A. Rader; still life, by R. D. Barnes; still life by V. M. Parton; and tanks, by F. L. Townsend.

LE CERCLE GALLIA TO BE ENTERTAINED NOV. 21
At the next meeting of Le Cercle Gallia, Thursday evening, November 21, the club will be entertained by Dr. Bernard Facteau, who graduated in Paris and is now a professor of French at Catholic University. Dr. Facteau will give his "Impressions of an American Student in France," and there will also be a musical selection on the program. The meeting will be held as usual in the Phi Mu Rooms, 2024 G Street, at eight o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all students interested in French.

Following the concert and dance to be given early next month, a card party is planned, the details of which will be announced at a later date.

WIG MEETING

An important general meeting for those interested in either the business or literary fields of the Colonial Wig will be held Friday evening at 7:30, in Room 32 of Building J.

Those who attended the first meeting of the literary magazine are expected as well as other students since interested.

"College Week" Will Be Feature At Earle
Theater To Set Aside Nights During Engagement of "The Forward Pass"

A touchdown in collegiate entertainment is being planned by the Earle Theater, in the announcement of "College Week" to signalize the local engagement of "The Forward Pass," smashing comedy-drama of the university gridiron, and to honor the colleges and universities of the Nation's Capital.

The Earle management has decreed that "College Week" be divided into special nights, one for each of the leading educational centers of the city.

The theater will be decorated with the college colors, and every effort will be made to bring the campus spirit into the walls of the popular Thirtieth Street playhouse.

The Stafford Pemberton Dancers, clad in the collegiate colors, will take part in a special stage program, during the playing a lively medley of college airs by the Earle Symphony Orchestra, directed by Daniel Breeskin, who arranged the College Week overture.

The theme song of "The Forward Pass" will be sung by a collegiate quartet, and many other novelties will conspire to transform the Earle audiences, particularly the students present, into an uproarious cheering section.

JUNIOR ARCHERS DEFEAT SOPHOMORES, 262 TO 110

On Thursday, November 14, the Juniors defeated the Sophomore archers by a score of 262 to 110 out of 60 arrows apiece.

This Monday the Freshmen meet the Sophomores; and on Tuesday they play the Junior team.

NEWMAN CLUB TO HOLD MEETING AND DANCE

The Newman Club will hold its next meeting tomorrow evening at 8:30 in Room 29, of Corcoran Hall. Dr. John K. Cartwright, chaplain of the club, will give an informal talk on a subject to be announced later. The meeting will be in the form of a social, and refreshments will be served.

The Newman Club will give its Thanksgiving dance on Tuesday evening, November 26, at the National Press Club. The dance will be informal and open to all who wish to attend. The committee on arrangements is Richard H. Meredith, chairman, Paul Finegan, Walter O'Brien, Margaret O'Connor, and Louise Parker.

GERMAN CLUB MEETS
The German Club will meet tonight in the Alpha Delta Theta rooms, Building M, at 8:30. The feature of the meeting will be an illustrated lecture by Paul Gropp, assistant professor of German, on post-war Germany. Music and refreshments will follow the lecture.

Students, Attention!
For self-supporting students desiring fascinating, remunerative work either temporary or permanent, may I suggest that many students of both sexes have earned scholarships and cash sufficient to defray all college expenses, representing national magazine publishers. If interested, write or wire for details—M. A. Steele, National Organizer, 5 Columbus Circle, New York, N. Y.

GENERAL FRIES SPEAKS TO G. W. MASONIC CLUB

Pictured Part Which Masonry Has Played in National History in Address to Club

Major General Amos A. Fries, former chief of the Chemical Warfare Service of the United States Army, was the guest and speaker at the Armistice Day banquet of the Masonic Club of the University, held Monday, November 11, at the Brick Wall Inn.

General Fries, a prominent Mason and honorary member of Sigma Mu Sigma, collegiate Masonic organization, pictured the part which Masonry and Masons played in the formative period of our national history.

He recalled the names of many famous Masons of early days, including Washington himself. Turning to the present period, he emphasized the problem of law enforcement, which now seems especially acute. He urged a courageous facing of this problem by the proper authorities and by the private citizen.

Professor Orin J. Powers, of the School of Education, also addressed the meeting.

Aaron S. Rippey, vice president of the Masonic Club, presided. His address of welcome was seconded by that of Ralph M. Morgall.

The next meeting of the Masonic Club will be held on the second Monday in December. The annual election of officers will be an important feature.

Intra-Mural Contest Ends; Final Game Held Last Week; Grovener Heads Winning Team

The intra-mural soccer schedule came to an end last week with the Wild Cats wearing the champion's crown.

The Mud Turtles beat the Puddle Jumpers, 3 to 2, and the Wild Cats won from the Pill Pushers, 3 to 0. The Wild Cats defeated the Mud Turtles in the final game of the series by a score of 4-1.

The members of the winning team are as follows: Edith Grovener, captain; Elizabeth Bequette, Martha Buchanan, Mary Crittenden, Selma Ebel, Jane Hill, Lon James, Mary Macmillan, Catherine McCallum, Rose Rosen, Marjorie Sigmond, Ruth White, James Hyatt, Mary Stöddin, Mary Faust, and Marjorie Hertzberg.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB GIVES CONCERT AT BANQUET
Members of the Men's Glee Club of George Washington University, who sang with the club last year will give a concert at the Lafayette Lodge banquet, to be held Thursday evening, November 21, in the Masonic Temple, Thirtieth Street and New York Avenue N. W.

Robert Harmon will direct the seasoned men in several numbers from last year's repertoire of songs which will probably include: "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," by Bach; "Song of the Marching Men," by Protheroe; "Interger Vitae," Ode 22, Horace, and "The Frogs." The program will be supplemented with selections by the men's quartet.

"This year's club is the best I have ever directed," Dr. Harmon says, "but the boys have not yet learned the new songs sufficiently for concert work."
